

What should I expect during my service?

The disinfection application is dispersed in fine micron particles that will appear to hang in the air as they slowly settle onto all surfaces. This will result in the surfaces becoming moist for a short period after the treatment. This period is when the disinfectant takes action and the surface must be left to dry. There is no access to the space during this period which is typically 2 hour post completion of application, dependent on the ventilation of the premises.

- Services include bio-fogging and hard surface wipe-down for heavily contacted surfaces such as doorknobs, cabinet handles, under counters, and more
- To provide the most effective outcome for your property's circumstances, we provide options for frequency of treatment, phased treatments, and after-hours availability.
- Turner Pest Control proudly uses Nisus DSV which the Environmental Protection Agency has determined is effective against SARS-CoV-2, the cause of COVID-19.

Our TurnerClean service disinfects your environment for health, safety & peace of mind.

We recommend this sheet is distributed to your staff so they understand the role they each play in effective prevention and treatment for your home or business.

Will I need to do anything after my service?

Apart from enjoying peace of mind for you and your staff, the following quick housekeeping tips should be noted for continued success between disinfection services.

- Advise staff if there is any moisture remaining on their arrival it should be dried with a paper towel which is then disposed of. Direct contact with hands or other parts of their bodies should be avoided.
- Rinse any food/drinking containers before use if they were left in an exposed location—including any pet food/water containers.
- Ensure any new materials brought back into the area are sanitized appropriately.
